WHAT IS ONE CHINA POLICY?

- 1 After the Chinese civil war, the Nationalists were defeated.
- 2 They retreated to Taiwan and made it their seat of Government with the name Republic of China.
- 3 Communists who won the civil war declared People's Republic of China with Beijing as the capital.
- 4 Both the sides said they represented all of China.
- 5 Initially, many Governments, including the United States of America recognized Taiwan.
- 6 China's policy is any country that wants diplomatic relations with mainland China (PRC) must break official ties with Taiwan.
- 7 Several countries tilted towards Beijing and USA also saw the need to develop mutual relations beginning in 1970s.
- 8 USA established formal diplomatic ties with Beijing in 1979 under President Jimmy Carter.

WHAT IS ONE CHINA POLICY?

9 As a result, USA had to sever ties with Taiwan and closed its Taipei embassy.

10 In the same year, USA also passed Taiwan Relations Act and this guarantees support to the Island.

11 This Act states that the USA must help Taiwan defend itself, that is why the US continues to sell arms to Taiwan.

12 USA also maintains an unofficial presence in Taipei via the American Institute in Taiwan, a private corporation through which it carries diplomatic activity.

ONE CHINA POLICY

CHINA, TAIWAN AND THE WORLD

- 1 Beijing benefited from this policy as Taiwan was kept out of diplomatic relations officially.
- 2 Taiwan is not recognized as an independent country by much of the world and even the United Nations did not recognize this.
- 3 However, Taiwan maintains vibrant economic and cultural ties and maintains the emotional relationship with US to extract concessions.
- 4 The One China Policy is a Delicate Balancing Act that the United States has perfected over three to four decades.
- 5 It is not clear how Donald Trump will take this policy ahead.
