ISSUE NO: 1

HISTORY OF TAWANG

- In 1913, Tibet declared independence
- But, the subsequent Chinese government did not recognize this.
- 1914 Shimla Accord defined McMahon line as the new boundary between Tibet and British India (China initiated but not signed)
- Chinese map shows some 65,000 sq km of the territory south of the line as part of the Tibet Autonomous Region, which they call it as South Tibet.
- China says Tibet was not sovereign and did not have the power to conclude treaties.
- This is the reason, why China issues stapled visas to people from Arunachal Pradesh.

- China is going soft on Taliban and it is pushing for reconciliation with Taliban because of the reason Uyghur ETIM militants have expanded their presence and activities in Afghanistan.
- China believes that Uyghur militants are supported by Afghan Taliban and that's why it is going slow on Taliban.
- But, India is very clear that Taliban is hosting LeT, JeM etc. against India.
- Hence, there is conflict of interest in this issue also.

CHINA ... TOO SMART

- China wants us to join CPEC.
- It is against the sovereign interests of India as CPEC passes through PoK region.

CHINA ... TOO SMART

ISSUE NO: 4

- China is expanding their military drills and creating infrastructure in South China Sea.
- China is going to amend its Maritime Traffic Safety Law to designate specific areas and temporarily barring foreign ships from passing through these areas.
- China is preparing to declare international waters on the nine dash line. If this is the case, South China Sea will become China's waters and foreign countries ships while passing in this area should have to fly with their national flags to identify themselves.

China wants non-interference by USA for all these things and questions the friendship emanated between India and USA during the past 10 to 15 years.

CHINA ... TOO SMART

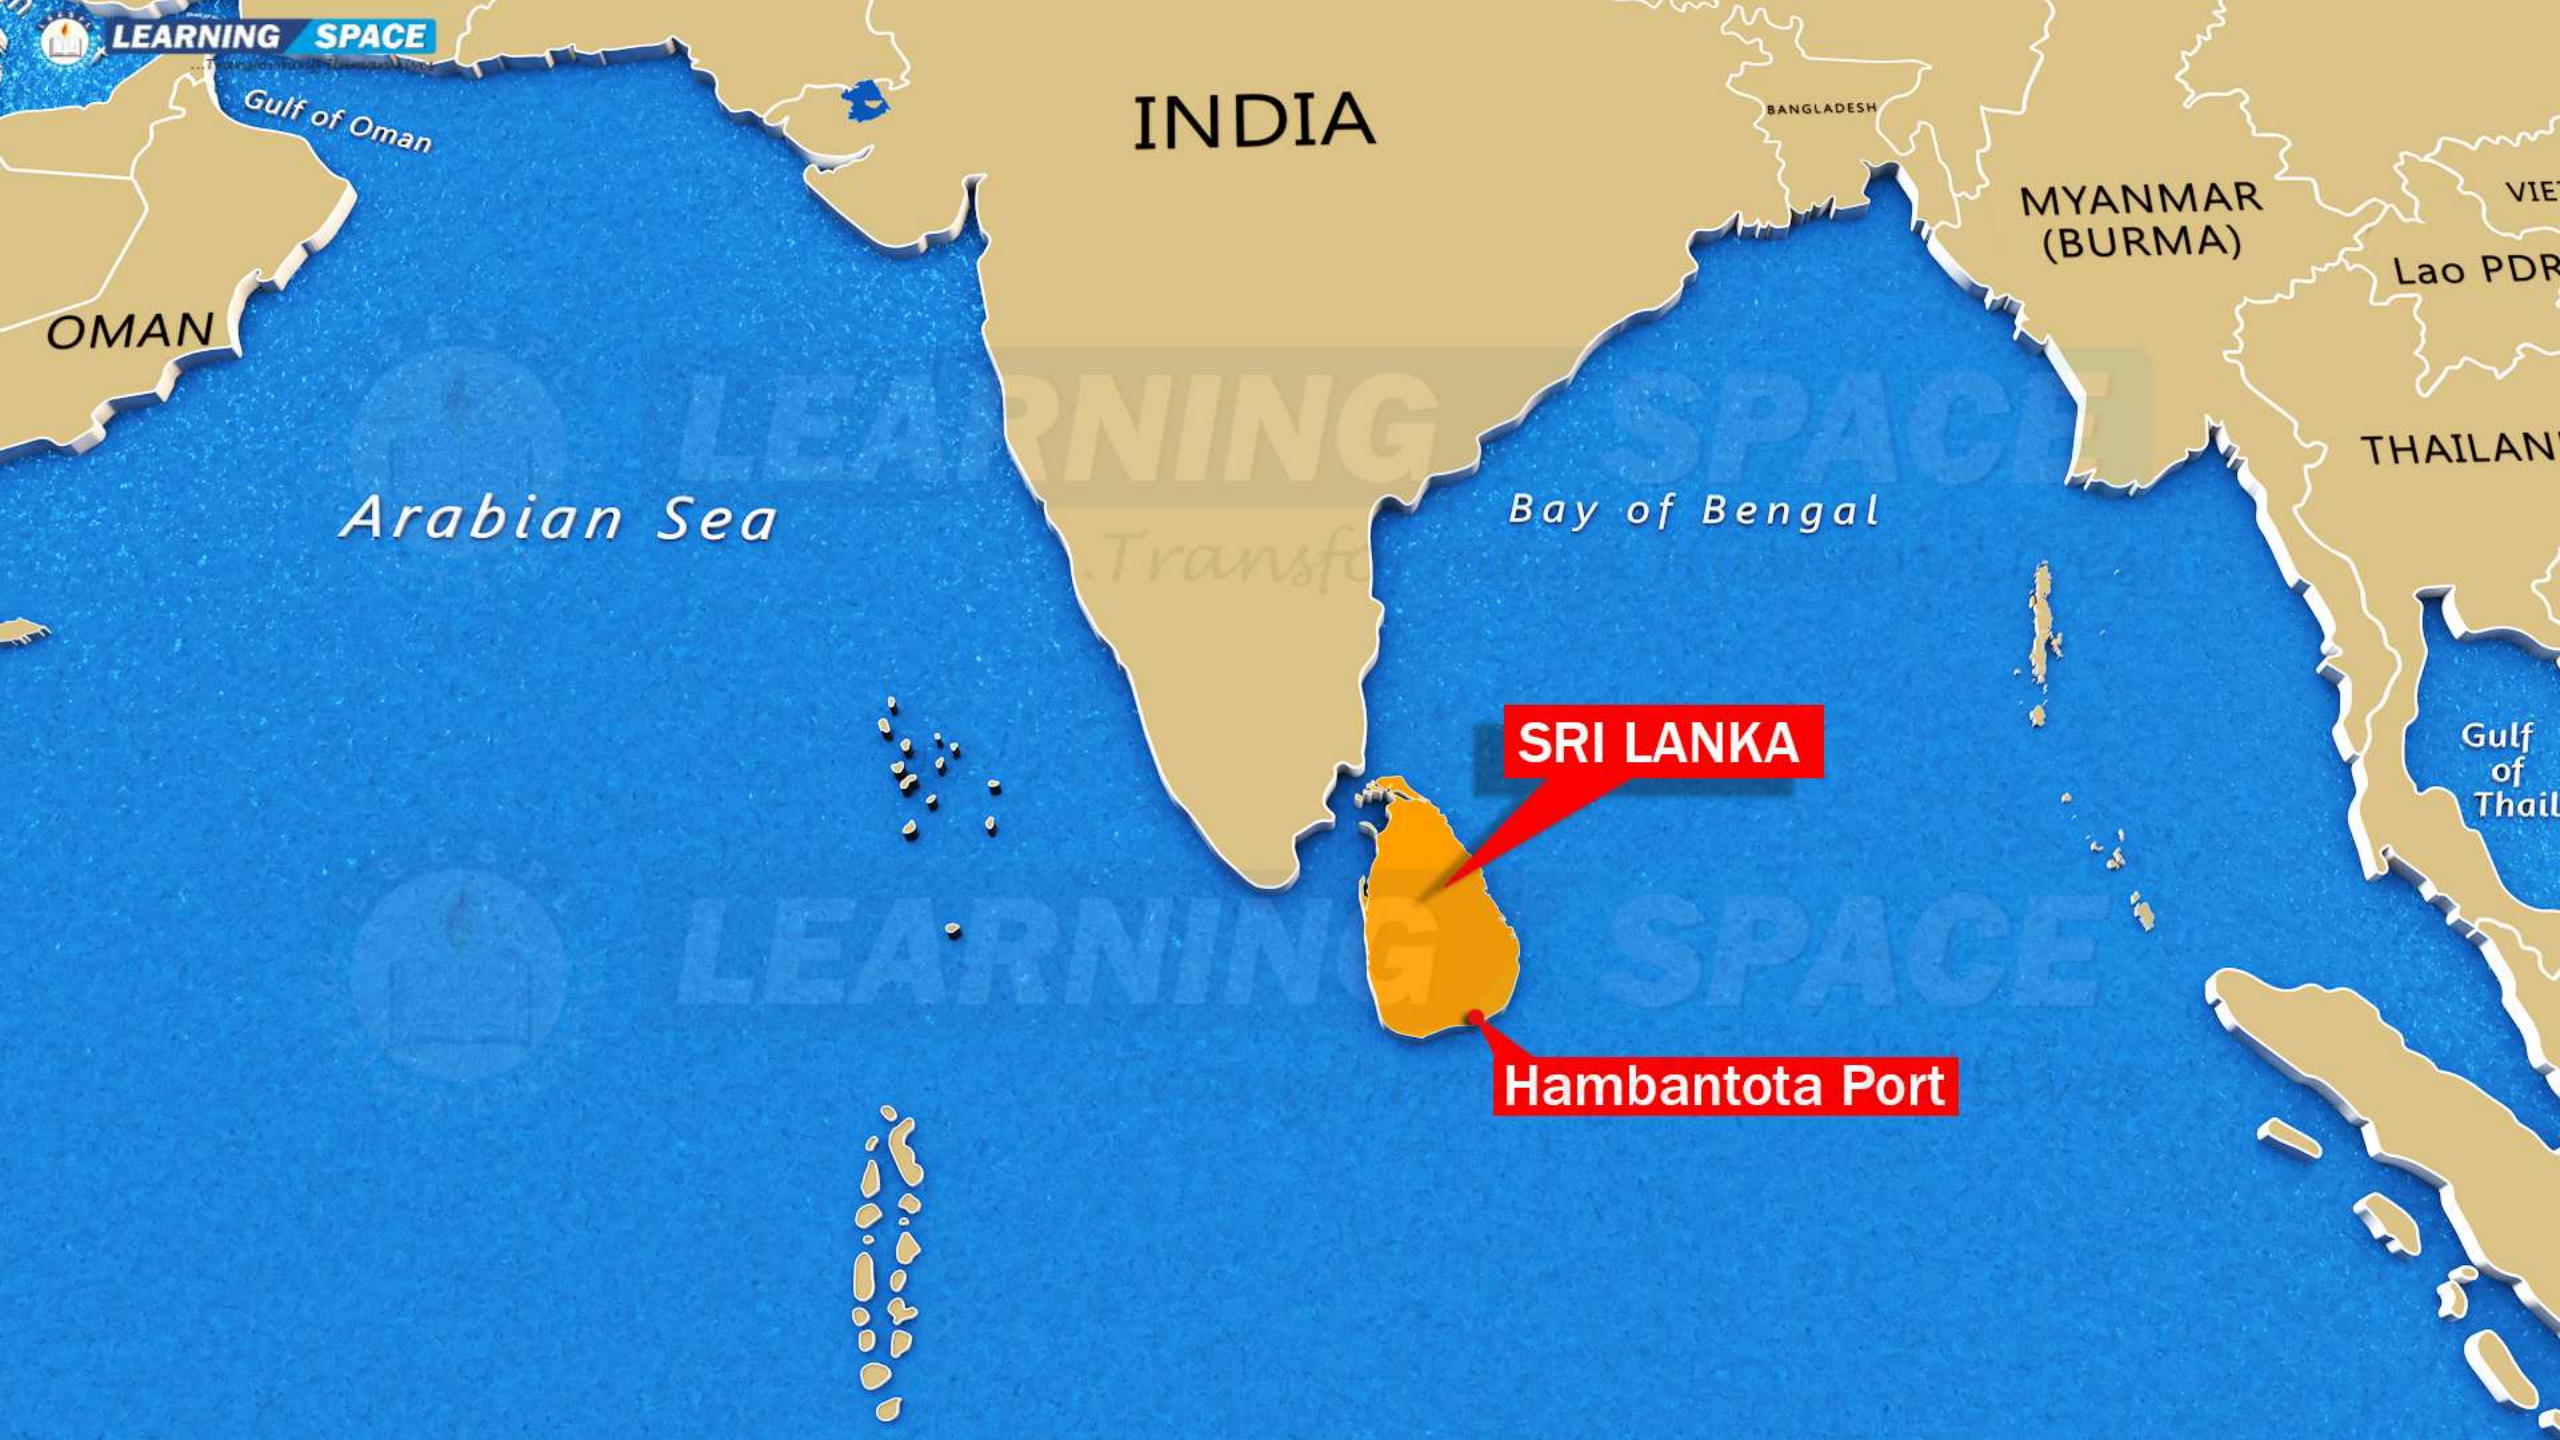

ISSUE NO: 5

- After the development of first phase of Hambantota port at around $ 360 mn, Sri Lanka is paying back the interest over the debt at around $ 30 mn per annum with great difficulty and now the available news reports suggest that out of the total investment for CPEC, only 4% will come as grant and the rest would come through commercial loans from Chinese banks.

Is it not the Chinese grand plan of using its muscle power in future to keep hold on these neighbouring countries both economically and strategically?

CHINA ... TOO SMART

CHINA ... TOO SMART

ISSUE NO: 9

- China is positioning itself as the new globaliser using Silk Road Summit in May to fuel OBOR.
- It also puts pressure on India to join OBOR as our neighbouring countries are most likely to go in China's way.

CHINA ... TOO SMART

All these actions indicate that China is becoming over smart and not only it tries to stamp itself as the leader, at least in Asia-Pacific region, if not in the world, but also its intention is to become self-styled globaliser in 21st century under the changed circumstances of protectionism.
