SECURITY FORCES

AN INTRODUCTION

- Indian Armed Forces
- Paramilitary forces
- Central Armed Police Forces

PARAMILITARY FORCES

1 The term “paramilitary forces” in India has not been defined in any acts or by authorities officially. However they are conventionally used to refer to three forces i.e. Assam Rifles, Special Frontier Force and Indian Coast Guard. They assist Armed forces very closely and led by officers of Indian Armed forces.

- 2
- Previously term “Paramilitary forces” was used to refer to variety of armed services that aid the operation of law enforcement agencies of India and Armed forces but in 2011 on request of army a new definition was adopted which excluded Central Armed Police forces.
 - From March 2011, Ministry of Home Affairs adopted a uniform nomenclature of Central Armed Police Home Forces for five forces namely CRPF, BSF, ITBP, CISF, SSB (which are generally led by IPS office and is under Home Ministry) to avoid confusion.

CENTRAL ARMED POLICE FORCES

1 The Central Armed Police Forces (CAPF) refers to five security forces in India under the authority of Ministry of Home Affairs. They are Border Security Force, Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF), Central Industrial Security Force (CISF), Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) and Sashastra Seema Bal (SSB).

2 Five CAPFs, the BSF, CRPF, ITBP, CISF & SSB, are organised on police lines. These CAPF have their own cadre of officers, but headed by officers of the Indian Police Service.

3 On the recommendation of Border Management Task Force which was constituted after Kargil war, provision was made for One Border One force and accordingly various forces were created.
